EASE newsletter

EASE has a monthly newsletter from December 2015, the editor of the newsletter is our vice president Pippa Smart. It covers EASE news and events and other news and events of interest to our members. If you have any problems with the newsletter please contact our secretary Dalibora Behmen (secretary@ease.org.uk).

FaceBook page

With thanks to Duncan Nicholas and Cristina Vasiliu, EASE has a new FaceBook page: <https://www.facebook.com/EurSciEd>, that is more interactive and can ensure effective communication with members.

Membership renewal

Don't forget to renew your membership for 2016 to keep your member benefits: any queries, please contact our secretary Dalibora Behmen (secretary@ease.org.uk).

EASE forum digest

At its last meeting, the EASE Council decided that from this issue on, the EASE forum digest will be for members only. The editorial board welcomes this decision, as a forum should be a member-only discussion group as it represents being a part of the EASE community. EASE editors are posting not to the public but to their community. So the EASE forum digest will be available only in the printed issue of the journal.

Current issue

This issue brings Moira Hudson's editorial on her experiences as an editor (page 2), Cagney et al original article about retraction and republication from the editor's perspective (page 3), Denys Wheatley's essay about independence of editors (p7), Michele Nujiten's essay about statistics (page 9), Elise Langdon Neuner's viewpoint about the proper use of the word multiple (page 15), an interview with the Jong K. Ha, President of the Council of Asian Science Editors (page 21), meeting reports from Ishan Dave (page 17) Anna Maria Rossi (18) and Nuria Salade (20) plus our regular sections.

We hope you will enjoy the read.
